All:

Attached are two documents to facilitate our planning call scheduled for tomorrow, Wednesday February 20, 2012.

The “chronological” compilation of comments includes all of the electronically transmitted comments received through the morning of Friday February 15, 2013. Comments in the chronological file are compiled in the order received. Within the comments submitted, individual comments are color coded according to comment categories that are delineated in the second attachment, the “sorted” compilation.

Within the sorted compilation, individual comments are sorted into different comment themes or categories, which are color-coded to match comment coding in the chronological summary. The pdf with the sorted comments includes bookmarks in the content list so that readers can easily go to a specific theme. Also, the themes are broken out into two groups, group 1 being themes not directly related to the Superfund study work plan, and group 2 being comments directly related to the draft work plan.

Individual comments captured within the sorted compilation are reproduced as received with the exception of formatting and numbering in some cases, which was omitted or altered as necessary to sort comments into specific themed categories. If the same comments were submitted by the same individual on different days, all were included so some comment redundancy may be noted within the compilations. The chronological compilation includes commenter names, recipients, and submittal dates for individual comments received. Names and dates associated with individual comments in the sorted compilation are omitted for brevity.

Verbal comments recorded in notes from the January 16, 2013 public meeting are not included in the attached compilations. A summary of those verbal comments will be distributed separately.

Regards,
Dina
